

El Camino de Santiago de Compostela
COLG 280C
Summer 2012

Course content and purpose:

El camino de Santiago de Compostela (or Saint James Way) is a three-week course in Spain. The Way of St. James is a museum of over 800 kilometers. A thousand years of pilgrimages have left a treasure of Romanesque, Gothic, Renaissance and Baroque art along the way to Compostela. This course will examine prior and during the pilgrimage the seminal importance of the pilgrimage road to Santiago de Compostela and the relevance of this 1000-year-old tradition to Spain's and Europe's self-definition. From its first years, the Road to Santiago has proven to be a framework for mythological legends and a focus of Spain's historiography. Along with literary works, we will examine historical texts, art, and architecture. Additionally, articles and other secondary readings, web pages, videos, will bring alive the spirit of the pilgrimage route. The class will focus on the importance of the medieval and contemporary Road to Santiago within the broader context of pilgrimage in all its glorious variety. Prerequisite: None, although knowing some basic Spanish will make traveling through towns and villages more interesting. Cross-listed with COLG 280. Fulfills the intercultural requirement.

Criteria for evaluating students:

These will include: 1) student discussions of readings, interviews, viewings and other investigations; 2) a research on a student-selected pilgrimage center along the Road to Santiago; 3) oral presentations on a topic relating to the research.

Evaluation:

Research Project (40%)

Each student will conduct a research on a subject listed below or on any aspect of the Camino with the consent of the director. For a detailed description, see under "Research Guidelines" below.

Oral Presentation (40%)

Each student will have to give an individual oral presentation on any aspect of the Camino. Ideally, it would be one based on the research project but it could also be about the experience of doing the actual pilgrimage. Please, make arrangements with program director.

Preparation and Participation (20%)

You can get the Santiagobis group using this:

<http://groups.yahoo.com/group/santiagobis/>

But to see the photos it is necessary to join the Santiagobis group and that probably means having to sign up for yahoo as well. It is free, so that is no big deal, but it is a bit of a nuisance. The Santiagobis group has similarities to the GOCAMINO group, but in a lot of ways they seem to complement one another. The latter is more likely to get into academic discussions and the former is somewhat heavier on the pragmatic stuff, but there is a lot of crossover. There are some disadvantages to being in any Yahoo group - mainly having to view the ads, but it does have the advantages of accepting photos and narratives that are too long for e-mail. Like GOCAMINO, Santiagobis has archives available, but unlike the GOCAMINO archives, they are available only to members. It was founded just about the same time and for the same reason, i.e. the folding of the old UCLA Listserv. There are many who are members of both groups and a lot of their messages are sent to both groups. (regards, Robert)
