REGISTRATION INSTRUCTIONS

OCTOBER 31 - NOVEMBER 18, 2005
SPRING 2006

All currently registered students who expect to return to CSB/SJU this Spring must complete advance registration by November 18th. Please follow these instructions carefully—proper registration is your responsibility. If you have any questions about registration, call the Registrar's Office at 5260 (CSB) or 3396 (SJU).

STUDENTS ARE ELIGIBLE TO REGISTER ONLY IF THEY HAVE:

- ... Met with their advisor to obtain their Label with Registration PIN #
- ... Settled all current charges with the Student Accounts Office
- ... Been accepted by a department (unless they are a first-year student, or first semester sophomore)
- ... Complied with Minnesota immunization regulations
- ... Have an active Network account
- ... Applied for graduation if they are classified as a Senior

We strongly urge you to meet with your advisor early and enter your registration on BANNER Web Self Service on the date listed on your PIN Label. Registration is on-line—delaying your registration will affect course selection.

Students who are ineligible to register for any of these reasons may register on BANNER Web Self Service after they have cleared all registration holds.

Please note that registration for ILPs (Individualized Learning Projects) and for special programs (Tri-College Exchange, Internships, etc.) requires your submission of special forms available from the Registrar's Office or they are available on-line. Registration for Internships (8 credits or more) are due the first day of classes.

REGISTRATION ADJUSTMENTS

Registration adjustments (Drop/Add) can be done on BANNER Web Self Service through January 19th. You will need your Registration PIN# that you received from your Advisor. To drop a course after this date, students can come to the Registrar's Office at SJU (Quad 163) or at CSB (Academic Services Building 208).

Listings of canceled or closed courses will be electronically updated on the Class Schedule Information on BANNER Web Self Service. Students should use BANNER Web Self Service to check whether a space has become available in a course that was previously closed. Courses may be added through the first 4 class days of the semester.

If a course is closed, check whether there are any other sections of the same course that have spaces available in them and register for an alternate section. If this option is not available to you, consider alternate courses and register accordingly. Your advisor is a good resource to help determine an appropriate alternate. In some cases, it may be appropriate for the department chair or instructor to "override" a student beyond the course limit. Override registrations are completed by the student presenting a signed (department chair or instructor, as appropriate) Drop/Add card to the Registrar's Office.

REGISTRATION PRIORITY AND COURSE SELECTION

Registration priority is based first on class standing, then on cumulative earned hours. Seniors are assigned courses first, then juniors, sophomores and first-year students. Class standing is determined by earned credits, not by years in college. Banner Web Self Service will immediately respond to your course selection by indicating Enrolled or Closed.

DROP/ADD on Banner Web Self Service

If you would like to drop and add courses for Spring Term 2006, you may do this through BANNER Web Self Service until January 19th. Please keep your Registration PIN #. You will need this to Drop/Add on Web Self Service. After this date you will need to drop and add courses in the Registrar's Office.

OBTAINING A NETWORK ACCOUNT

All students must have a NETWORK account to use Web Self Service from the Network PC's on campus. Most of you will already have an account, which you may use for many other functions besides course registration. If you do not have a Network account--or have forgotten your password or how to sign on--please follow these steps to obtain your Network account:

- Step #1: Go the Computing Center at SJU, Quad 084, from 8:30 am - 4:30 pm
- Step #2: Identify yourself as needing a Network account.
- Step #3: Activate your account on one of the PC's in the computing center

PROBLEMS -- Discussed below are some common problems we expect some of you may encounter, and how you may solve them.

... Your PIN # doesn't work.

Solution: Re-check your label and carefully re-enter the PIN #. You may have to Exit Web Self Service completely and login again. YOUR PIN# for registration is not the same as your WSC (Web Security Code) that you use to access Student Information on Web Self Service. Please note: the PIN # is not displayed (for security reasons) as you enter it on the computer.

... You lost your PIN #.

Solution: Contact your Advisor to get your Pin Number again, or bring your Advisor's signature to the Registrar's Office. (PIN #'s cannot be obtained in the Computer Access Areas)

... You entered the wrong CRN #.

Solution: Web Self Service allows you to make changes to your registration. See the section on changing your fall registration in the "Instructions for using Web Self Service". You may make changes on Web Self Service through January 19th.

... While using Web Self Service it displays: "This session for your Login has expired".

Solution: Web Self Service is programmed to Log off of the Registration Screen if you leave the screen idle for more than 15 minutes. If this should this happen, simply sign on again. To do so, click on Web Self Service and then click on the Fall Registration icon and start over.

... Web Self Service shows the status of a course as 'open' but it will not permit you to register for the course.

Solution: You may not meet the prerequisites or quota restrictions for that course. Check the notes in the class schedule under that course or contact the Registrar's Office.

ESSENTIAL INFORMATION

ACADEMIC ADVISING

After receiving this Class Schedule booklet, visit your academic advisor to arrange a program of classes for next term, and have your advisor place your PIN label on the Class Request Worksheet located on the back page of your Spring 2006 Class Schedule Booklet.

If you intend to register for more than 18 credits, you are incurring an overload. Overloads may be attempted only by students in good academic standing, and overloads of 20 or more credits require the student to see the Academic Advising Office.

ACADEMIC PROBATION

First semester students must earn a minimum 1.8 cumulative grade point average to remain in good academic standing. In subsequent semesters, all students are required to maintain a 2.0 cumulative grade point average for all CSB/SJU coursework. Students who fall below a 2.0 cumulative GPA will be placed on academic probation for the next semester. During the probationary semester, students must raise their cumulative GPA to 2.0 and may take no courses for S/U grading unless the course is offered only on an S/U basis. Students whose cumulative GPA remains below the minimum standards at the end of a Final Probationary semester are subject to dismissal. For more information, see the Official Academic Catalog.

ADDING A CLASS

Thursday, January 19th is the last day you may ADD a full-term course to your program, unless the course's first meeting is scheduled after January 19th. No student may enroll for a full-term course after the second scheduled meeting without the instructor's consent.

BANNER Web Self Service will be available to add courses through the 4th day of the semester. After the 4th day of the semester, any additions, with the instructor's consent, must be made by filling out a drop/add card & filing with the Registrar's Office.

AUDITING A CLASS

Students intending to audit a course (earn no credit) should indicate their intent when registering for the course, or complete a Drop/Add card and file it with the Registrar's Office during the first week of class. Auditors are expected to attend all regular classes, but they are not required to take final exams. A student who first registers for credit may change to auditor status any time during the first month of class. A student who first enrolls for auditor status may change to credit status only during the first week of class. Courses audited are not included in determining the total credits earned; however, the credit value of any course audited is computed in the assessment of tuition.

CALENDAR CHANGES

The CSB/SJU calendar is subject to modification or interruption due to occurrences such as fire, flood, labor disputes, interruption of utility services, acts of God, civil disorder and war. In the event of such occurrences, the Institutions will attempt to accommodate their students. However, we do not guarantee that courses of instruction, extra curricular activities or other programs or events will be completed or rescheduled. Refunds will be made to eligible students in accordance with College or University policy.

CLASS PERIODS and DAYS

Period I	8:00-9:10	M = Monday
Period II	9:40-10:50	T = Tuesday
Period III	11:20-12:30	W = Wednesday
Period IV	1:00-2:10	R = Thursday
Period V	2:40-3:50	F = Friday
Evening

Classes offered Periods II, III, and IV generally are requested by greater numbers of students than are other periods. You are less likely to be closed out of a class that is scheduled for Period I, or V, and may wish to consider this when you prepare your initial registration.

CO-REQUISITES (COREQ)

Co-requisites are courses that must be taken during the same semester.

COURSE NUMBERING SYSTEM

100-299	Lower Division undergraduate courses
300-399	Upper Division undergraduate courses
400-above	Open to graduate students

CREDITS EARNED AT OTHER COLLEGES

Students may complete out-of-residence courses and transfer them to Saint Benedict's and Saint John's. The college at which the coursework is completed must be accredited by the appropriate regional accrediting agency at the time of enrollment. Courses to be transferred must be similar to courses offered for credit at Saint Benedicts and Saint John's. Courses to be transferred must receive a minimum grade of C. Credits received for these courses are translated into semester credits according to the appropriate translation formula. Grades earned for transferred coursework are not calculated into the student's cumulative GPA. Before credit may be transferred, the Registrar's Office must receive an official transcript directly from the college at which the courses were completed.

With advance approval, students may apply these courses towards core and/or major requirements. Work taken to complete core requirements requires prior consultation with and approval of the Registrar's Office or the Academic Advising Office. Work taken to complete major requirements requires prior consultation and approval of the department chair. The department chair needs to sign an Academic Exemption Form.

Students who intend to transfer coursework from a foreign college or university must consult the director of international studies before beginning such study. Consult the Center for International Education for further information.

CREDIT OVERLOAD

If you plan to register for more than 18 credits, you are incurring an overload. The overload tuition fee is billed at $640.00 per credit over 18. Students whose cumulative grade point average is below 2.00 may not register for an overload. Students in good academic standing (GPA above 2.00) may register for a maximum of 1 overload credit (19 credits overall) without permission. Credit totals of 20 or more require the student to see the Academic Advising Office. BANNER Web Self Service registration system will not allow you to register for more than 19 credits.

DROPPING A CLASS

... Jan. 19th Last day to add/drop a course using BANNER Web Self Service. After this date students must fill out a drop/add card & obtain the instructor's signature to receive a permanent drop until February 8th .

... Feb. 8th Last day to receive a permanent drop on your schedule

... Apr. 10th Last day to receive a "W" on your transcript. If you withdraw after this date, your instructor will assign you an "F" at the end of the semester.

For courses scheduled for less than a full term, withdrawal during the first third of the course will result in no record entry; during the second third, a "W" entry; during the final third, a failure if appropriate.

Students who fail to properly drop or withdraw from a course may be subject to a failing grade if appropriate.

EXEMPTION/SUBSTITUTION

In exceptional circumstances students may petition for exemption/substitution from specific academic regulations. Forms for requesting an exemption/substitution are available from the Registrar's Office. Students should first consult with their academic advisor, whose signature on the exemption/substitution form represents a recommendation that the request be considered favorably by the approving official. Department chairs are the approving officials for exemptions/substitutions from requirements within majors and minors. Exemptions/substitutions from academic regulations beyond major and minor fields require the approval of the Assistant Academic Dean. Requests for these non-departmental exemptions/substitutions should be directed to the Academic Advising Offices. The guiding principle in considering requests for any exemption/substitution is fidelity to the academic standards of the colleges.

Period I -	8:00-9:10
Period II -	9:40-10:50
Period III -	11:20-12:30
Period IV -	1:00-2:10
Period V -	2:40 -3:50

MS = Multi Section Common Exam

Classes that meet after Period V may use their last regularly scheduled class period for their final exam

The academic calendar concludes each semester with a one-day study and four-day test cycle. Faculty may administer final exams for their classes only during the exam periods officially scheduled by the Registrar's Office. Cumulative final examinations may not be given during the regularly scheduled class days of the semester. If there is to be a cumulative final exam in a course, all exams given during the semester must be returned for student review by the last scheduled day of class.

Instructors of each full-term course are expected to announce at the beginning of the course whether a written two-hour final examination will be given. Such an exam will be administered during the four-day test cycle according to the schedule above. Note that a class is assigned a test time and day in the schedule according to the cycle and time period it meets during the semester. Classes that meet after Period V may use their last regularly scheduled class period for a final exam.

One period has been reserved on each of the four test days for the administration of a common exam for multiple-section courses who so desire. A list of such courses, and their exam times, will be announced this fall. The legend, MS, in the accompanying chart signifies times set aside for these multi-section common exams.

GRADUATION INFORMATION

- ... An Application for Degree must be submitted to the Registrar's Office prior to the award of a degree from Saint John's University or the College of Saint Benedict.
- ... An Application for Degree is sent spring semester to all CSB/SJU Juniors.
- ... Submitted applications are then reviewed to ensure all Core and Major requirements are met prior to the award of a degree.
- ... Results of the Degree Audit are sent to students two times during their senior year: September and March.
- ... Degrees are issued May, August, December and January.
- ... Upon successful completion of all degree requirements, diplomas and transcripts are sent to all graduates at their permanent address.
- ... An Application for Degree allows students the privilege to participate in the May commencement ceremony.

- ... Students may participate in the May commencement ceremony if they are within 8 credits of all degree requirements.
- ... Students who leave CSB/SJU may transfer up to eight semester credits from another accredited institution of higher education to complete their degree requirements.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

- ... 124 credit hours. 45 of these must be taken at CSB/SJU
- ... 40 of the total credit hours must be upper division (300 level)
- ... 2.0 minimum cumulative GPA (unless a specific major requires a higher average)
- ... 2.0 minimum GPA major and/or supporting courses (unless a specific major requires a higher average)
- ... Completed Core curriculum requirements
- ... Acceptance to a major (usually at the completion of sophomore year)
- ... Requirements for a major (half of the courses for a major must be completed at CSB/SJU)

HOLDS

All financial, academic, student accounts & health center holds must be cleared before registering for classes.

INCOMPLETE GRADE POLICY

The policy concerning the temporary grade Incomplete (I) includes the following points:

When circumstances warrant, instructors may allow some delay in the completion of course work. Such extensions shall not extend beyond the close of the following regular (fall or spring) semester, and earlier limits may be set at the discretion of the instructor.

The instructor must report on the official grade roster the grade "I" followed by the minimum grade the student will receive if the course work is not complete by the end of the following semester (e.g., IF, or IC, or IB). That grade will be used in the computation of grade point averages until the Incomplete is removed.

If by the end of the following semester the instructor reports a single final grade to the Registrar, that grade will replace the I/GRADE, the Incomplete will be removed, and averages recomputed accordingly. Otherwise the provisional grade that was assigned with the "I" will become a permanent part of the transcript.

Exceptions to the above may be granted only by the written permission of the Assistant Academic Dean. Such exceptions will ordinarily be granted only in cases of medical disability or problems of comparable seriousness.

Degree candidates are cautioned that failure to have all degree requirements satisfied (including removal of Incomplete grades in courses needed for graduation) by March 16th may result in postponement of their graduation.

INDIVIDUAL LEARNING PROJECTS

The guidelines and application forms for Individual Learning Projects, sometimes called Independent Study, are available in the Registrar's Office. If you are planning an ILP for Spring term, please consult these guidelines. Remember, only 4 credits of ILP per term are allowed. You may indicate your intent to register for an ILP by requesting DNA 271 01A CRN #12797, or DNA 371-01A, CRN #12798 on Banner Web Self Service. Remember to indicate the number of credits. First-year students are not eligible for ILPs.

All CSB/SJU students who plan to do an Internship for academic credit during Spring 2006 are required to attend a one-hour Legal & Professional Issues session in November or December of 2005. Check the with the Internship Office (Academic Services Building, phone 5799) for exact dates. When you register for spring classes, you may indicate your intent to register for a Spring 2006 internship by requesting DNA 397-01A, Call #12799 through Banner Web Self Service.

You will not be registered for your internship until the Registrar's Office receives your completed Registration for Internship-Preliminary Learning Contract form with all required signatures. This form and other required legal forms can be obtained from the Internship Office. For information on other requirements, check the Internship Program website (www.csbsju.edu/internship). The last day to register for a Spring 2006 Internship is Friday, December 16. Registration after this date requires approval of the Internship Coordinator.

SUMMER 2006 INTERNSHIPS FOR CREDIT

All CSB/SJU students who plan to do an Internship for academic credit during Summer 2006 are required to attend a one-hour Legal and Professional Issues session offered in April of 2006. Check with the Internship Office (Academic Services Building, phone 5799) for exact dates. All internships which take place during the summer must be registered under the Summer term not under the preceding Spring semester or the following Fall semester.

You will not be registered for your internship until the Registrar's Office receives your completed Registration for Internship-Preliminary Learning Contract form with all required signatures. This form and other required legal forms can be obtained from the Internship Office. For information on other requirements, check the Internship Program website (www.csbsju.edu/internship). The last day to register for a Summer 2006 Internship is Friday, May 12th. Registration after this date requires approval of the Internship Coordinator.

Contact Student Accounts for information regarding cost of tuition for summer internships.

FALL 2006 INTERNSHIPS FOR CREDIT

All CSB/SJU students who plan to do an Internship for academic credit during Fall of 2006 are required to attend a one-hour Legal and Professional Issues session offered in April of 2006. Check with the Internship Office (Academic Services Building, phone 5799) for exact dates.

You will not be registered for your internship until the Registrar's Office receives your completed Registration for Internship-Preliminary Learning Contract form with all required signatures. This form and other required legal forms can be obtained from the Internship Office. For information on other requirements check the Internship Program website (www.csbsju.edu/internship). The last day to register for a Fall 2006 Internship is Friday, May 12th. Registration after this date requires approval of the Internship Coordinator.

MINNESOTA STUDENTS ELIGIBLE FOR THE MINNESOTA GRANT PROGRAM:

You must register for a minimum of 15 credits each semester to receive a Minnesota Grant at the full-time student rate. Students who register for 12-14 credits may still receive a Minnesota Grant but the award amount will be substantially reduced. Please direct any questions to the Financial Aid Office at CSB or SJU. (For all other aid programs, 12 credits is still considered full-time.)

MODULAR SCHEDULING

Some departments offer courses of less than a full term's length; these courses begin and end according to the following dates and are called Modules, or "Mods". Each Mod is nine regular teaching periods and will be listed by the codes below in the Official Class Schedule:

MODULE	CYCLE	BEGINS	ENDS
A1	1-3-5	January 16	February 7
A2	2-4-6	January 17	February 8
B1	1-3-5	February 9	March 10
B2	2-4-6	February 10	March 13
C1	1-3-5	March 14	April 5
C2	2-4-6	March 15	April 6
D1	1-3-5	April 7	May 4
D2	2-4-6	April 10	May 5

NOTE: THESE DATES DO NOT APPLY TO MODS IN THE GRADUATE SCHOOL. SEE GRADUATE SCHOOL.

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATIONS TO STUDENTS BY E-MAIL

The Registrar's Office will use electronic mail as the most expeditious means of communicating with you. Make sure you are not blocking messages from the Registrar's Office in order to receive important notices regarding graduation, cancellation of courses, course schedule updates, etc.

ON TRACK

Advisors will have access to their advisees' On Track advising aid through BANNER Web Self Service for Faculty Advising System. Please make an appointment to meet with your advisor early to review your academic progress and select your Fall coursework. Remember, all students MUST see their advisor to receive their Registration PIN # Label.

PERMISSION REQUIRED CLASSES

Before attempting to register for courses listed as "Permission of Instructor or Department", students must obtain written permission.

PREREQUISITES

Check the course listings section of this class schedule to find out if a class has a prerequisite. Make sure you have met all prerequisites before attempting to register for a course. If you have not taken the prerequisite, you must contact the department to seek written approval (signed drop/add card or e-mail directly from the instructor) to register for the course. If you fulfilled the prerequisite through a course taken at another college, please contact the Registrar's Office prior to registration.

REPEATING A COURSE

A course that has been failed may be repeated for credit. Courses that have been passed may not be repeated for credit. They may, however, be repeated for additional honor points. The original grade is not removed when the course is repeated and credit for a course can be earned only once. The higher grade is computed in the GPA. If you are registering for a course that you are repeating you MUST notify the Registrar's Office.

STUDENT TEACHING

Students registering for student teaching (EDUC 361, 362, 363) in their 9th (or greater) semester as a full-time student at CSB/SJU will be billed at ½ the regular tuition rate for that semester. These students will also not be charged the student activity fee, technology fee, and campus center fee for that semester. Institutional gift aid (scholarships/grants) will not be available to these students.

STUDY ABROAD

CSB and SJU offer a number of group overseas study programs. Students who plan to enroll in one of these programs should contact the Center for International Education, QUAD 128 at SJU. Students who are considering enrolling in coursework offered abroad by another institution (Consortium/External Study Abroad) should contact the International Education Office or the Registrar's Office, for information on transfer of credits. Students who register for SA 372, Consortium/External Study Abroad, will be billed a $200 fee.

Seniors must ordinarily be in residence for the two semesters immediately preceding commencement (graduation). "In residence" is defined as enrollment as a full-time student at CSB/SJU for a minimum of 12 credits per semester. Any student wishing to register for an External Study Abroad Consortium during one of their two last semesters of their Senior year must receive approval from the Academic Advising Office. Seniors will not be allowed to register for a year long External Study Abroad Consortium.

S/U REGISTRATION

Arrangements for this non-honor point grading option should be made with your professor at the beginning of the course. Remember that undergraduates are limited in the number and types of courses they may take for the grade S (Satisfactory). See the Catalog for specific rules. First-year students may not take the S/U option except for a course with only S/U grades available. The grade S, once turned in by the instructor, is NOT SUBJECT TO LATER CHANGE.

Grading options are listed in the Class Schedule as either GRADING OPTION A-F REQUIRED or GRADING OPTION S-U REQUIRED. If neither of these is listed, the instructor will permit eligible students to choose either option by the date the instructor specifies at the beginning of the course. Once you have chosen, you may not request that the S/U be changed to an honor point grade.

If coursework grades average below a C under the S/U option, the grade U (Unsatisfactory) will be given with no credit earned.

TRI-COLLEGE EXCHANGE

The College of Saint Benedict, Saint John's University, and Saint Cloud State University have an agreement that encourages regular full-time undergraduate students to take courses on any of the three campuses. Registration is limited to fall and spring semesters. If you are interested in taking courses at Saint Cloud State, you can pick up a copy of their Class Schedule and a registration application at the Registrar's Office. If a course seems suitable for your program of studies, see your advisor for permission to register. To register, file the approved application with the Registrar's Office at the St. John's campus before January 2nd. The course will be added to your Spring 2006 Student Detail Schedule, if space is available.

CSB/SJU students will be billed tuition, and other fees, at CSB/SJU rates. If a student is not registered for more than 18 total credits, there will ordinarily be no additional charge. For credits over 18, an additional tuition charge of $640.00, will be made for each additional semester credit hour.

If you have any questions about Tri-College Exchange and the suitability of SCSU courses toward your degree program, see Jane Simon in the Registrar's Office, QUAD 163.

TRANSCRIPT SERVICE

Current students may request an unofficial copy of their transcript at no charge from the Registrar's Office. Official transcript requests must be submitted in writing to the Registrar's Office and may be picked up at the Registrar's Office (or we can mail them for you) 2-3 working days after the request is made, except during the first and last week of each term.

Former students may request a transcript copy for $3.00 per transcript. The fee for faxing a transcript will be $3.00 per transcript. If the transcript is faxed outside the U.S. the fee will be a minimum of $5.00. All transcript requests must be submitted in writing via mail or fax and payment must accompany the order.

UPDATES TO THE OFFICIAL CLASS SCHEDULE

Updates, including additional courses, cancellations, changes to existing courses, core approvals & other general changes to the Official Class Schedule will be published periodically on the Registrar's Official website. Notification of the publication of these updates will be sent via E-mail to all students and faculty.

VARIABLE CREDIT COURSES

If a course is listed with a range of credits (variable), you must enter the appropriate credit amount desired when you register for the course. The credit amount you are registered for may impact your status as a full-time student or your financial aid.

VERIFICATION OF ENROLLMENT

The Registrar's Office can provide verification of your enrollment at the College of Saint Benedict or Saint John's University, as well as other information, such as graduation date, majors, full-time status, etc.

Verification letters or requests for completion of forms may be obtained by one of the following methods:

- ... Contact the College of Saint Benedict Registrar's Office at 320-363-5260
- ... E-mail Denise Laudenbach at djlaudenbach@csbsju.edu.
- ... Fill out & print our on-line request form & mail to the address listed below
- ... Submit your request on-line

In your request, please include the following information:

- ... your full name
- ... BANNER ID number and Social Security number
- ... where the information should be sent

... what information you need, ie., full-time status, major, graduation date, degree awarded, GPA etc.

... date of the request

Any request to release GPA information must be in writing with your signature authorizing the release of this information

WITHDRAWAL FROM COLLEGE

Complete withdrawal from all of your courses during the term must be initiated with your Residential Director at CSB, Mary Commons 221 or the Residential Life Office, Sexton 127 at SJU. If you withdraw by February 2nd no official record of your registration for that term will be made. If you withdraw between February 9th and April 10th, the mark "W" will appear behind that term's courses on your transcript. If you withdraw after April 10th, all courses for that term will be followed by the grade of "F". If you decide to withdraw after the term ends, you MUST notify the office mentioned above.

ARTART 208: Survey of Non-Western Art: Art of ChinaCarol Brash*

This course examines the art of China from the Neolithic era to the present day. Through a variety of media, including sculpture, architecture, and painting, the class will gain an understanding of the broad themes and concepts that occur in Chinese art. Part of this includes an understanding of the role that religion plays. Thus, a basic comprehension of Buddhism, Daoism, Islam, and Confucianism will be attained. The structure of the class will include a combination of lectures illustrated by Powerpoint presentations or slides, discussions, in-class writings, and supplemental video material where appropriate. Each lecture will focus on a small selection of works of art which are taken as a key to understanding the period or social context in which they were made. Each lecture will focus on a number of issues, which will be introduced through specific examples of art. Any object in this survey may be examined from several points of view: as an independent work of art, as an example of a particular type developed within a chronological framework, or as a type which illustrates features associated with a certain locale or social context. Art may be compared across cultures as well, either because it arose in response to similar needs or because of interaction between cultures.

ART 233C: Arts Appreciation*James Hendershot*

During this course students will be actively involved (hands-on) in individual and group work. The work that students will be doing will involve relief prints, colligraph (a type of printing), and mono-prints. Group work will involve presentations and research. Through observation the students will define the elements and principles of design as this relates to existing works of art as well as self-created works of art. Various media, including photocopy, will be explored throughout the course.

BIOLOGYBIOL 341: Natural History of Tropical Carbonate EcosystemsLarry DavisCross-listed with ENVR 341 & GEOL 341*

This course provides students with an introduction to the unique ecology and geology of tropical marine carbonate ecosystems, with an emphasis on those of the Bahamas. Topics covered include the evolution of reefs and reef-building organisms, geological history of the Bahamas, and the natural history of modern reef, mangal, and seagrass ecosystems. Environmental challenges facing these ecosystems will also be considered. The course requires participation in a field trip to San Salvador, Bahamas. As part of the field trip, students will participate in a research project that involves monitoring of the ecological status of a tropical carbonate ecosystem. Students must have a valid US passport by the time spring break arrives.

PREREQUISITE: BIOL 115 and 116 or ENVR 175 and 275 or GEOL 211 and 212

FEE: $1,400

COMMUNICATIONCOMM 308: Rhetoric of AdvertisingTerry Check*

This course examines the rhetorical function of advertising in society – how images and arguments function to persuade audiences. Students learn how to use theory to render critical readings of advertisements as social, political, and cultural messages. This course includes a unit on minority representation in advertising, with a special focus on Latinos. The primary objective of the course is to empower students to become critics of persuasive messages in advertising. Students learn the rhetorical strategies that companies use to appeal to mass audiences. Students use critical theory to render a deep reading of advertisements as social, cultural and political messages. Evaluation will be through oral presentations, class discussion, examinations and a research paper.

FEE: $25.00

PREREQUISITE: COMM 101 or COMM 103 or permission of instructor.

COMM 346: Strategic Communication Campaigns*Erin Szabo*

This course provides a framework for students to understand the components and appropriate use of theory in designing strategic communication campaigns. By developing campaigns (Ex: public relations, advertising, integrated marketing communication, health or political communication), students will be able to build skills in issue and audience identification, research, goal and objective setting, campaign planning and execution, and evaluation of campaign outcomes. The course will use case studies, reading, discussion, exercises and group projects to increase students; critical evaluation of past campaigns and to apply the lessons learned to development of their own campaigns. This class may involve a service learning component.

PREREQUISITE: Junior or senior standing & COMM 101 or 103

COMM 383-01A: Feature, Sports & Commentary Writing*Dana Drazenovich & Dave Deland*

This advanced media writing course will take an in-depth look at journalistic writing and reporting tactics for feature and sports stories, as well as commentary writing such as columns, editorials and other opinion pieces. This is a writing-intensive course for those interested in newspaper, news Web and magazine writing.

PREREQUISITE: COMM 245

COMM 383-02A: Layout & Design for Print Media*Marty Sundvall*

This course will explore the different computer technologies and software used in creating print media. Students will use programs such as Adobe In-Design, Quark XPress, Adobe Photoshop, Adobe Illustrator and basic web page design to bring their creative visions and course projects into printed reality. The course is geared for advertising, public relations and news editorial students.

COMM 385: Love, Commitment, and Communication*Karyl Daughters*

Love is an intangible yet somehow we know it when we see it. This course will explore the role of communication in the enactment of love in close interpersonal relationships. To do this we will discuss readings from psychological, cultural, and biological perspectives that will address the function of communication and help us understand why and how we love.

CORE – JUDEO CHRISTIAN HERITAGECORE 333: Suffering & Christian Healing

Cross-listed with MCLT 365. See description under MCLT

CORE - SENIOR SEMINARS

* All Senior Seminar Courses are offered for Standard grading ****

CORE 390-01A: "The Bible says!" Biblical Ethics in American Society and Culture*Michael Patella 1-3-5 / 8:00-9:10 / SJU*

While the biblically based, ethical culture of New England Puritans and Dissenters has met some competition over the centuries, it still dominates much in the American political and cultural arena. Such a foundation for ethical behavior can be good, but it has all too often relied on seriously problematic interpretations of Scripture.

Is there a way to read the Bible different from the method employed by televangelism and fundamentalism? Is Sacred Scripture still valuable in forming an ethical vision for the Twenty-first Century? This seminar will research the history of our biblical culture, establish a disciplined method of biblical interpretation, and then use the Bible to address ethical and moral issues in the area of ecology, education, war, capital punishment, the economy, and sexuality.

CORE 390-02A: Revolutionary Lives*Kelly Kraemer 1-3-5 / 9:40-10:50 / CSB*

The goal of the Senior Seminar program is to help students develop the ability to make sound moral judgments on issues that affect our lives. We will achieve this goal by studying the moral judgments of ordinary people who have made extraordinary moral choices and taken action to change the world. From Bono to Nelson Mandela, from Harriet Tubman to Angela Davis, from world famous heroes to unknown college students, we'll examine the lives, words, and actions of men and women living revolutionary lives—lives marked by and resulting in radical change. Why has an Irish rock star dedicated himself to ending poverty and AIDS in Africa? How did an ex-slave become a leader in both military and non-violent actions? Why do some people give up their time, their money, their freedom, and even their lives in the name of social justice?

The subjects of our inquiry have found thoughtful answers to some of the difficult questions facing those who seek social justice. Is violence ever acceptable or is nonviolent action the only ethical option? Can real change happen by working within "the system" or must one remain outside of the system to avoid corruption and cooptation? Are we limited to legal action or is breaking the law sometimes morally acceptable? We will examine their moral choices, discuss the rationales behind them, and pose questions: What are the alternatives in any given situation, and how does one choose responsibly among them? Would we do the same? Could we do the same? Our aim is to develop the ability to lead responsible lives in a complex and challenging contemporary world by studying the examples set by others.

CORE 390-03A: "Faces of Violence: Sexuality"Ned Dubin 1-3-5 / 9:40-10:50 / SJU & W / 7-10pm / SJU

Using literature and film as a point of departure, we will take a hard look at the human propensity for violence. Much of what we see and read will be graphic and disturbing, but all will treat violence as problematic, not as a solution or a source of entertainment. We will concern ourselves not so much with the effects of public exposure to violent entertainment, but what authors and directors have to say about the problem. The works will represent a broad spectrum of cultures, past and present, with discussions focusing on analogous patterns in contemporary American society and in our own lives.

Given the wealth of material available, the syllabus will concentrate on one aspect of violence as a unifying theme. This fall we will deal with sexual violence—not just violent sex (rape, domestic abuse, sex offenders, prostitution, pornography, etc.), but also outbursts of violence in which attitudes toward sexuality play a part, such as jealousy, moral indignation, sexual posturing and frustration. Much of the material we work with will be frankly erotic, some of it graphic (but simulated).

Students who choose this class should enjoy reading (I assume you all like movies) and take fiction as seriously as reality. A minimal background in literary studies is desirable. All are expected to speak out and participate uninhibitedly in classroom discussions. Set aside Thursday evenings for group screenings (our lab). We will have 6 of these during the semester, and you must attend.

CORE 390-04A: Economics & Ethics of Sustainable Societies*Joe Desjardins 1-3-5 / 11:20-12:30 / CSB*

This course will analyze the ethic and economics of contemporary industrial societies and consider how such societies might become ecologically sustainable. We will examine evidence that suggests that developed economies as presently structured are not sustainable and go on to consider what the ethics and economics (both on both theoretical and practical levels) of such a sustainable society might involve.

The topics covered include the economic and philosophical underpinnings of current market systems and a critique of these underpinnings (including the flaws in neoclassical economics). We then turn to the ethics and economics of sustainable consumerism, production and business, sustainable communities, and sustainable development. Every student will be expected to present the results of a major research project to the seminar late in the semester.

CORE 390-05A: Social Issues and the Law*Tim Robinson 1-3-5 / 1-2:10 / SJU*

What role should moral values play in our thinking about legal and public policy issues? The answer depends in part on whether we can justify our moral judgments to each other. How can that be done? What exactly are moral judgments, anyway? We approach these questions by looking at the process of judicial reasoning in criminal law, both as a potential model for moral reasoning, and as a point of intersection between moral and legal considerations. We examine particular cases and issues, as well as more theoretical questions about the foundations of ethics and law.

CORE 390-06A: Living Morally with the Non-human*J.P. Earls 1-3-5 / 2:40-3:50 / SJU*

This course explores the environmental ethics of liberation. An exploration of the links between the environmental crisis and the inequities of race, class, gender and species that insure the "social securities" of those on top—like most of us. Many believe that the environmental crisis can be remedied by changing public policies and moderating the production, packaging, and the design of consumables. We will be looking at philosophical and poetic texts in a way that may promote such a reshaping of the consciousness, texts that decenter western humanistic thought and its multiple hegemonies in order to hear such marginalized voices as those of women, animal advocates, and the racially, economically, and erotically oppressed. To free the earth from our consuming ways, we must find a way to free those whose bondage has been our "social security."

CORE 390-07A: Striking a Balance: Reassessing our Values and Priorities*Andreas Kiryakakis 2-4-6 / 9:40-10:50 / SJU*

The goal and intention of the SJU/CSB senior seminar program is to develop an ability to lead responsible lives in a contemporary world and to make good moral judgments on issues that affect our lives. Do you think that this is possible? Isn't a bit late? Have you not been living in the "contemporary world" for the last two decades, and is your code of conduct not in accordance with the society in which you were brought up? Would you not agree that we have accepted a standard of behavior as part of our tradition? If so, has this standard eliminated hunger, war, and division of religion and nationality?

Similarly, discussions about aspects of moral philosophy remain controversial. The field abounds with theories concerning the proper conduct of one's life. Contending ideas, arguments and models range from Aristotle's view of the virtuous life to feminism and the ethics of care. Although the various theories often present very engaging and convincing arguments most tend to be rooted in disciplines like religion, politics, etiquette, economics, and law, among others. The result is that even knowledgeable philosophers will disagree about the various theories, and about fundamental ideas.

Where does that leave us in regard to the objectives of the CSB/SJU senior seminar? It is precisely that question that will be at the core of our analysis. It is the aim of the seminar to determine if a paradigm shift is necessary, and if it is possible to cultivate a capacity to combine rational and nonrational ways of knowing, and if it is possible to become comfortable with uncertainty.

Required reading includes: The Epic of Gilgamesh, Faust I, Siddhartha, The Little Prince, The Grand Inquisitor, Freedom from the Known, and selected essays dealing with recent discoveries of quantum physics and healing.

CORE 390-08A: Life and Work in Emerging Adulthood*Rodger Narloch 2-4-6 / 1-2:10 pm / SJU*

"So what are you going to do now?" This is the dreaded question that plagues most college students as they near graduation. Although the question can get tiring, it may be the most important question they must answer as it indicates their values and goals, their identity. In this course we will examine the age period of "emerging adulthood," where one is no longer an adolescent, yet one may not feel completely like an adult. During this period of transition, emerging adults face many choices about how to live their lives. We will discuss how all of the seemingly small day-to-day choices truly reflect who a person is. However, special attention will be given to the role of work in our lives. Why do we work? How can we find meaning in a job? How do we balance work, family, and leisure time?

CORE 390-09A: Black Feminist Identity*Valandra 2-4-6 / 2:40-3:50 / CSB*

This course examines the historical and contemporary socio-political experiences of black women in America and globally through the writings of black feminist writers. Importantly, black women's identity will be studied through literary, philosophical, spiritual, and artistic expressions of self-identity and imagery. An analysis of the myths and realities that have shaped contemporary phenomena will be offered. Fundamental issues of justice, equality, and humanity are examined within a cultural and spiritual context with specific attention to the nature of the interface between Black women, family, community, and the larger society. Students will become familiar with distinct perspectives on justice and ethics including feminist utilitarianism and virtue ethics, global distributive justice, and Christian ethics.

CORE 390-10A: Evil

Linda Tennison Monday / 6-9 pm / SJU

The presence of evil can lead us to question some of our most basic and heartfelt assumptions about the way the world operates. What is evil – how do we define it? By what criteria do we qualitatively differentiate evil from other sources and causes of human suffering? Where does evil come from? Is evil an independent force in the world, a quality of human dispositions, or the mindless product of circumstances? What principles can guide our moral and ethical decision-making in the face of evil? We will explore these questions through selected readings from a variety of disciplines including philosophy, history, biology and psychology. What variables have shaped our views of evil, how have our views changed across time and how do our current views continue to shape our attitudes and actions toward others?

Core 390-11A: Expanding Awareness and Consciousness (without drugs!)

Leigh Dillard Wednesday / 6-9 pm / CSB

This course examines how our perception of reality, and ourselves, is determined by our belief-systems and how unaware we are of our own resulting biases and blind spots. The course explores different ways of thinking and knowing from a variety of perspectives (e.g., somatics, psychology, neuro-science, the arts) and includes an experiential component combining meditation, the Feldenkrais Method, creative movement and play as means for increasing self-awareness and altering belief-systems and perceptions of reality.

CORE 390-12A: Sex, Death & Ethics

Scott Johnson Thursday / 6-9 pm / SJU

Admit it, you just read this description because of the title. And you think since it meets once a week on a Thursday night, it shouldn't interfere too much with your weekend. Yet, some subjects are unavoidable in college. You've talked about sex before, but have you discussed its implications? Is sex ever related to death? Aren't ethics supposed to be boring?

We rarely have the opportunity to explore our most deeply held opinions in a civil public forum. Can abortion be discussed at the dinner table without parents becoming worried and suspicious? Should abortion even be discussed at a pair of Benedictine Catholic colleges where an official doctrine of disapproval is well known and clearly expressed? Yet, if we don't talk about abortion somewhere, how will we know that our moral judgments are consciously elected and defensibly maintained? And if we can't talk about this subject, how can we claim to account for a variety of other moral views which easily compare with abortion? There is more to sex death and ethics than simply abortion. Haven't you always wondered why everyone who has sex in a horror film is about to die?

This course will consider Sex, Death and Ethics, consistent with the guidelines for senior sem. Abortion is only one area where the three interrelate. Students will have some choice in where we choose to explore. We will read different kinds of texts and maybe even see some films. We will ask more questions than we will answer, but we will also develop our critical thinking skills with essentially contested concepts. There are no preconceived answers to the questions we will ask. Our task, properly stated, is to learn how to ask and assess those questions which may turn out to have uncertain answers. Ethics is the study of how we should live, and questions about these topics are vitally important. We will simply do the best we can under the circumstances.

COURSES OF THE COLLEGE

COLG 130: EMT Basics

This course covers basic minimal emergency care required to work on an ambulance or first responder squad throughout the 50 states in the U.S. The course offers basic to more advanced techniques and principles of pre-hospital; emergency care. Students must be at least 18 years old to take the National and State Certification exams. .

Mantoux or other TB test within 6 months of course
FEES: Approximately $380

COLG 140: Healthy Lifestyles

This course introduces the student to the concepts of health promotion and risk reduction. Course participants will function as a learning community and study the effect of health on their learning. Emphasis will be on inter-relating physiological, psychological, social and spiritual aspects of health. Concepts will include health assessment, prevention of illness and injury, and promotion of a healthy lifestyle. Students with a background in the biological sciences are encouraged to enroll. Preference will be given to nursing and dietetic majors.

COLG 311: Contemporary Global Topics

A discussion and writing course that is designed for students returning from a study abroad experience who wish to deepen their understanding of contemporary global issues. A recently returned study abroad director will select books, articles, and other media that are appropriate for discussion by students returning from any study abroad program.

ECONOMICS

ECON 316: Asian Economies

Sharmistha Self

The course addresses the rise to significance of the Asian-Pacific region in the world economy. It examines the rise of the Asia-Pacific as an important economic, cultural, and geopolitical region. This region of the world is typified by a delicate balance between governments and business interests, which accounts for their diverse development trajectories. Moreover, this relationship is not static but dynamic, reacting and evolving with changes in internal and external circumstances. This course in Asian Economies will concentrate primarily on the post World War II growth performance of the countries in East and Southeast Asia, also known as the "Asian Tigers." It will study how these countries transformed themselves from peasant societies into industrial powerhouses and how that have continued to achieve growth rates several times higher than the advance nations of the West over a period of time. Using basic tools of economic theory, three themes are going to be addressed. First, the different paths of development are analyzed within their regional and international contexts. Second, the relationships between the USA and some of the key countries, such as Japan, South Korea, and China are explored. Finally, the rise to significance of this region in the global economy is examined.

PREREQUISITE: ECON 111 or permission of instructor.

ECON 359A: Cost-Benefit Analysis

John Brandl

Cost-benefit analysis is a method of assessing the costs and benefits of actions and programs, not merely for the individual or organization undertaking them but for society as a whole. It can be thought of as a way of mimicking the market in cases where a market does not exist or where market failure distorts prices. The method is usually applied to government programs. In the course we will consider the philosophical underpinnings of cost-benefit analysis and develop the techniques of this method.

The course is conducted through lectures, discussions, and student presentations on homework assignments (that typically involve calculations of costs and benefits for actual or hypothetical government projects). Homework exercises are assigned for many of the classes. Students do not turn in their work to the instructor but should be prepared to make presentations on the exercises. The typical class begins with a lecture followed by discussion and student presentations of homework exercises at the chalkboard. Lectures are informal and students are encouraged to join in or ask questions at any time. There will be a mid-course examination. At the end of the course each student will submit a written summary and critique of a published cost-benefit analysis of his or her choice.

PREREQUISITE: ECON 332

ECON 359B: Dynamic Macroeconomics

Louis Johnston

Most economic models are static: they describe an economy at a single point in time. In this course, we will build and apply dynamic economic models, that is, models that describe the evolution of an economy over time. We will begin with the connections between government budget deficits, government debt and interest rates. From these examples we can derive a set of general techniques that can be applied to a variety of questions such as: why do some countries save more than others? Why do countries create pay-as-you-go Social Security systems? What are the consequences of privatizing Social Security? What are the causes and consequences of trade surpluses and trade deficits? We will then return to deficits, debt and interest rates and ask: what are the long-term consequences of government budget deficits and government debt policies?

ENGLISH

ENGL 130-03A: Reading Fiction

Ozzie Mayers

Cross-listed with HONR 250A-01A. See description under HONRS 250A

ENGL 220: Topics in Research: Creative Investigations

Mara Faulkner

All good writers know the limits of their own knowledge. They also know how to do many kinds of research to answer their questions in order to expand the scope of their work, make it authentic, and give it relevance and shape. Good writers are searchers, creative investigators. In this course, we will examine and practice the often silent partnership between writers and their researched material.

We'll read several works of fiction and nonfiction—a memoir, a historical novel, a historical or cultural study, and a literary study. We will also investigate the value and reliability of many sources of information—print sources, interviews, archives and museums, internet sites, buildings, landscapes, and cemeteries. Speakers will include writers whose work rests solidly on research, often in surprising ways.

Early in the semester, each student will design a project rich with questions, do the necessary investigation, and write and present it to our class and maybe beyond. It might be a memoir or family story, a historical documentary or essay, a piece of historical fiction, literary critique or literary history, a cultural study, or something else. It might be a chapter of a proposed Honors thesis. Evaluation will be based on enthusiastic participation in all activities, several working papers, and the final project.

ENGL 385G: The Comic Novel and Social Class: Fielding, Smollett, Sterne, and Austen

Cynthia Malone

The tradition of the comic novel begins properly with Henry Fielding. In this course, we'll read Joseph Andrews and Shamela, looking at Fielding's use of humor to explore issues of class and morality. Then we'll move on to the Smollett's Humphry Clinker, an epistolary novel that satirizes the absurdities of the human body and the social order. We'll also read Lawrence Sterne's incomparable maze of digressions, Tristram Shandy. In the final segment of the course, we'll watch Jane Austen wield her cool, precise irony as a tool to dissect matters of rank and conduct in Northanger Abbey, Sense and Sensibility, and Emma.

ENTREPRENEURSHIP

The E-Scholars program (ENTR) is a three course interdisciplinary sequence open to all students regardless of major. The program focuses on social entrepreneurship, encouraging students to be creative about how they can make a difference to improve society. Students interested in the program will go through a selection process that includes an application and interview. Accepted students will become part of a cohort group. The cohort will complete the three course sequence and travel together to visit with successful entrepreneurs in the United States and abroad. For more information about the E-Scholars program, go to the website at www.csbsju.edu/escholars.

ENTR 302: Global Entrepreneurship

Paul Marsnik

This is the second course in a three course sequence. The course prepares students to conduct international business by comparing and contrasting the business practices of entrepreneurs in the United States with entrepreneurs globally. Through readings and direct interactions with entrepreneurs and small business owner/operators in their home countries, the course introduces students to the decisions surrounding international operations. The emphasis of the course is on analyzing how markets and competition (economic dimension), power (political dimension), and culture (social dimension), and values (ethical dimension) influence start up decisions. Academic lessons presented by foreign professors and entrepreneurs are practiced by students when they are immersed in a foreign culture and face the challenge of actually transacting business on foreign soil.

Course objectives:

- ...Investigate the characteristics common to small business owner/operators across nations.
- ...Evaluate how successful small business people across nations create and build value for themselves and others.
- ...Develop personal contacts with practicing entrepreneurs in other countries.
- ...Recognize how economic, political, social, and ethical issues influence entrepreneurial practices in different countries.

...Determine the tasks to be accomplished and the hurdles to be overcome prior to and during a global business start up.

PREREQUISITE: ENTR 301

ENTR 303: Entrepreneur Apprenticeship

Paul Marsnik

This is the final course in the E-Scholars program. It involves an individualized entrepreneurial experience. In this course, students will be expected to complete a business plan. After completing the business plan, students will implement their plan or complete an apprenticeship that provides a significant experience in an entrepreneurial organization in the field of their interest.

PREREQUISITE: ENTR 302

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES

ENVR 200-02A: Food, Gender, Globalization, and the Environment

Diane Veale Jones

This course will examine the environmental, economical, and social equity issues of food production, processing, distribution, consumption, and disposal. We explore the journey of food from the field to our table. To map successfully this journey we analyze women's and men's roles, historically and currently, in food production: determine global food supply and hunger trends: compare consumption patterns among countries: investigate the environmental impact of agricultural methods of food production: examine different approaches to food sustainability and environmental sustainability; and delve into the politics of food.

ENVR 341: Natural History of Tropical Carbonate Ecosystems

Larry Davis

Cross-listed with BIOL 341 & GEOL 341. See course description under BIOL 341

ENVR 395: Research Seminar

Derek Larson

The focus of the capstone research course is "environmental problem solving." Working with the instructor and additional faculty readers, students will develop a thesis project that addresses an existing environmental problem from an interdisciplinary perspective. The seminar will provide structure for the research, writing, and presentation of the work, including a formal thesis-length paper and a public presentation. Topics will be selected by the students individually, subject to approval of the instructor and faculty readers. REQUIRED FOR ALL SENIOR ENVR MAJORS/MINORS.

GENDER & WOMEN'S STUDIES

GWST 290: Sex & Gender in Global Perspectives

Vera Theisen

This course explores the many ways in which the social construction of gender influences the lives of men and women in selected areas of the world. Class, race, education, religion and social norms are strong determinants in shaping the ways in which cultures function and gender roles are established. Feminism, too, is shaped by the global economy, the influence of religion and family values and the presence of political violence or stability. Students can focus their research on an issue of particular interest to them, e.g., the role of women in agriculture in Africa, emerging feminists groups questioning the principles of Islam, the work of human rights groups in areas such as Sudan or Rwanda. Students review and apply the basic principles of feminism studied in the introductory course while expanding their knowledge to issues of global feminism.

GEOLOGY

GEOL 341: Natural History of Tropical Carbonate Ecosystems

Cross-listed with BIOL 341 & ENVR 341. See course description under BIOL 341

HISTORY

HIST 300: Topics in Asian American History

Dave Bennetts

This course examines the experiences of those Americans Ronald Takaki has called "Strangers from a Different Shore." I refer, of course, to the immigrants, refugees and adopted children of Asian origin who have been coming to America since almost the beginnings of this nation. Relying heavily on readings and other sources that allow these people to “speak for themselves,” we will discuss such themes as the “push and pull” factors of Asian immigration, cultural adjustment and challenges, the native response, generational change, and many others. Particular attention will be given to the Minnesota experience.

HIST 395: Historiography and Methods: History One Person at a Time

Martha Tomhave Blauvelt

How can WE understand the mind and feelings of a person living in a radically different time? What can we say we “know” about the individual in history? How much of a person is captured in a diary or autobiography? How can we understand individuals through the material artifacts of their lives? History too often generalizes about groups; this course takes the opposite tack and looks at how WE can see both unique personality and whole cultures in the individual. Our purpose is to understand how to write history well, to appreciate and analyze individual motivation, and to make sense of the past. In short, it explores the art of biography.

We will look at sources on some very obscure people (using, for example, interviews with ex-slaves and letters home written by a pioneer woman) and also sources on some major political figures, such as Malcolm X and Richard Nixon. In the process, we will 1) explore the different ways historians can get under the skin of individuals in the past through exploring the uses and limits of letters, diaries, memories, autobiographies and interviews; 2) analyze one life in depth, the life of Malcolm X, to understand the different selves presented in his autobiography, speeches and reactions of his contemporaries; and 3) compare the biographies of an individual CHOSEN BY EACH STUDENT so that they can see how historians come to vastly different conclusions about the same person using the same evidence. Although most of the sources we examine will be printed, students will also have the opportunity to read handwritten manuscripts from the 1800s and examine past material culture.

This is a small seminar in which discussion will be the heart of the class. Students will read a variety of texts and will write several short papers and one extended comparison of different books on the same individual.

HONORS

HONR 210B: Computing: Science & Applications

John Miller

This course is an overview of computing and its applications from a scientific perspective. Students will learn how computers are built up from simple components to chips to computing devices and how various levels of software enable users to use them as “general purpose machines”. Included in the topics covered will be representation of data, algorithms, operating systems, databases, programming, social and ethical problems, and use of applications for doing useful work with computers. Students should have a reasonable level of mathematical ability although no mathematics beyond high school algebra will be assumed as a prerequisite.

HONR 220A: Introduction to Economics

Louis Johnston

Why are some countries rich and others poor? Why are some individuals rich and others poor? Is international trade harmful to the environment or helpful? What causes unemployment? Who the heck is Alan Greenspan and why should you care? Should you stay in business even if you are losing money? How much is a human life worth? This course will address these and many other issues through the lens of economic analysis. We will cover all of the material of an introductory economics and push beyond this through additional readings and quantitative sources. Bring your curiosity! (This course will be accepted as a substitute for ECON 111 - Introduction to Economics within the Economics curriculum and as an SSL.)

HONR 220B: Introduction to Human Communication

Jeanne Cook

This course provides students with a general overview of the communication theory and research, particularly as it relates to their everyday interactions. Topics may include theories of communication on meaning, language, perception, nonverbal cues, gender, relationships, self-disclosure, conflict, listening persuasion, groups, organizations, and cultures. This course counts towards the communication major/minor as COMM 105.

HONR 230B: Music & Creativity

Robert Koopmann

Music and Creativity is a study of the creative process in music through listening, a study of music history, and comparison with other disciplines. It will study the creative process through a book called Music and the Mind by Anthony Storr. The class will study the life of one particular composer through a biography, and read and discuss a book on the history of music. It will concentrate on about ten major musical works through listening, live performances and class analysis. Class includes a research paper and a presentation. No previous musical study is necessary.

HONR 240A: The Development of the Christian Tradition

Vincent Smiles

An introduction to the tradition of thought and life called Christianity, primarily through acquiring a historically-informed familiarity with the ideas and content of Christian scripture. In surveying the scripture, particular attention is paid to the relationship of Israel to Jesus and the early Christians, the basic concepts of Christian belief, and the ethics of the Christian life. Some contemporary interpretive controversies and developments will also be studied. Students will be challenged to think critically about the Christian tradition as a whole, particularly in relationship to other religious traditions and to their own ideas about what Christianity is.

HONR 250A: Reading Fiction: Growing Up in Literature: A Study of the “Bildungsroman”

Ozzie Mayers

Cross-listed with ENGL 130-03A

The “Bildungsroman,” the novel of human development, traditionally traces the growth of a young person usually from adolescence to maturity. In this course, you will examine the evolution of this genre from its German origins through its manifestations in contemporary times, keeping in mind the essential influences on human growth: ethnicity, race, gender, and class. By analyzing examples of the “Bildungsroman” by both women and men from various centuries, countries, and classes, we will expand and modify the traditional definition of this genre so that the very patterns of what constitutes growth will be understood contextually. This will provide you with the means whereby to know the drama of human development for others but ultimately for what these dramas tell you about your own development. Thus, you will not just read, discuss, and analyze these novels, but you will also explore your own patterns of growth. “Growing Up in Literature” will provide you with ample opportunities to discuss these novels as fictions and as realities of human development.

Possible novels include: Charlotte Bronte’s Villette, Jamaica Kincaid’s Annie John, Charles Dickens’ Oliver Twist, Richard Wright’s Black Boy, Gail Tsukiyama’s The Samurai’s Garden, James Joyce’s Portrait of an Artist as a Young Man, Kamala Markandaja’s The Nectar in Sieve, Edmund White’s A Boy’s Own Story.

HONR 250C: Great Issues in Philosophy

Steve Wagner

Throughout the ages, several issues have been central to the quest for philosophical insight about human existence. This course examines a number of those issues—free will vs. determinism, the making of moral judgments, the grounds for religious belief and other topics as time allows. Through careful reading of texts and through class discussion, we will critically analyze the ideas that philosophers have offered and will strive to formulate our own philosophical views on these issues.

HONR 250E: Great Poets for Life

Mark Thamert

This honors course will feature such great world poets as Jalaluddin Rumi, Pablo Neruda, Rainer Maria Rilke, Shakespeare and the Poet of the Book of Job as well as modern classic poems by writers like Sekou Sundiata, Li Ch’ing-chao, Michael Ondaatje, Margaret Atwood, Claribel Alegria and Carolyn Forché. In many cases classical and modern musical compositions which feature these authors’ poems will be played and discussed in class for the purpose of refining students’ ability to understand and interpret poetic texts. Students will be asked to learn by heart several of their favorite poems or parts of poems which ring most profoundly for them, for, as poet Molly Peacock writes, “Each time any of us reads a favorite poem, it conjures a special sorcery of second sight and third and fourth, until understanding is so profound that we are returned to a state before we even had language.... That is why it is so hard to say exactly what a poem means. Yet how rare - and thrilling - to be struck dumb in the all too articulate world." The purpose of this course is to allow students not only to explore and to understand, but also to be struck dumb in the face of some of the world's greatest poetry. Students intending to take the Great Books course their junior year will find this course a helpful preparation. Questions about this course can be addressed to mthamert@csbsju.edu.

HONR 311: Great Books/Great Ideas

Scott Richardson

This is a year-long discussion based seminar that concentrates on some of the world's greatest works of literature, philosophy, and intellectual history. Authors may include Augustine, Euripides, Austen, Thoreau, Biblical writers, Camus, Dostoevsky, Tolstoy, Eliot, Faulkner, Pynchon, Freud, Homer, Kafka, Flaubert, Melville, Dinesen, Flannery O'Connor, Plato, Nabokov, Shakespeare, Cervantes, Virginia Woolf, and others. Preference will be given to Junior and Senior honors students who will complete the entire year. Registration is by permission of the instructor only. All students in this course purchase a personal library consisting of roughly 100 books, and students are required to read a number of works during the summer.

HONR 340D: The Enlightenment: Reason vs. Religion

Eugene Garver

This course is Cross-listed with HONR 350D

In the 18th Century, a group of people called themselves enlightened and declared that they were now living in the age of reason. They were the first to say that democracy is the most natural form of government. They invented human rights, modern experimental science, and many other good things. They came up with these good ideas by formulating a new vision of reason in opposition to the most irrational force they saw around them, religion. In this course, we will look both at the arguments against religion and at the positive construction of a new kind of reason and of the rational person. Readings will include Defoe, Diderot, Hume, Kant, Rousseau, and Voltaire.

HONR 350D: The Enlightenment: Reason vs. Religion

Eugene Garver

This course is Cross-listed with HONR 340D. See description under HONR 340D

HONR 390: Clash of Civilizations? Islam in Today's World

Noreen Herzfeld

We hear much in today's media about the clash in religious and political values between Islam and the West. Islam is also the fastest growing religion in America. Thus it is a faith of which we cannot afford to be ignorant.

This course focuses in Islamic spirituality and how that spirituality informs or does not inform Islamic movements in America, Europe, and the Middle East. Our focus will be on how Muslims have encountered God (Allah), how this encounter informs both their daily life and a variety of Muslim political movements. This course is an introduction. Thus I expect that you will end it with more questions than you began, but with enough basic knowledge to read further and to put current events into a broader context.

MANAGEMENT

MGMT 305: Personal Finance

Mark Asuzu

The course introduces the student to the concepts, tools, and applications of personal finance and investments. It shows the student how to take the first step towards understanding the process of financial planning and the logic that drives it. Special attention will be paid to cash or liquid asset management, the use of open credit, consumer loans, insurance, investment management, automobile and housing purchase and financing.

PREREQUISITE: None. Open to all majors.

MGMT 323: Consumer Behavior

Rick Saucier

This course examines the process of consumer decision making in regards to motivation, personality, lifestyle, attitudes, and cultural and social influences. There will be an emphasis on the use of research and theory in developing marketing strategies. Prerequisites: MGMT 321

MODERN AND CLASSICAL LANGUAGES

MCLT 221: The Golden Age of Athens

Margaret Cook & Scott Richardson

Great works of Greek literature, history, and philosophy from the the 5th and early 4th centuries B.C., one of the most remarkable periods of intellectual, artistic, and political activity. Authors read include Aeschylus, Sophocles, Euripides, Herodotus, Thucydides, Aristophanes, and Plato. All works read in English.

MCLT 365: Reading Biblical Women

This course is cross-listed with CORE 368G

An exploration of the Bible as sacred text, cultural document and literary masterpiece, with special attention to the women of scripture. In addition to close readings of texts such as Genesis, Exodus, The Song of Songs, the Gospels and Revelation, class members will become acquainted with a range of techniques of biblical and literary analysis, from historical and textual criticism to mysticism and feminist theory. In the final unit of the course, students will explore, as interpreters and creators, artistic responses to scripture (the study or creation of translation, stained-glass, theatre, poetry, mystical writings, prose fiction, etc., based on the biblical text).

MUSIC

MUSC 272B: Songwriter's Workshop

Robert Koopmann

Composing and arranging vocal and instrumental music in various pop or jazz styles. Includes critique sessions with successful pop and jazz composers, as well as information on the discipline of entertaining, making an album, and legal issues

PEACE STUDIES

PCST 368: Justice, Peace & Reconciliation

Ron Pagnucco

From the Book of Exodus to the Hebrew prophets and the New Testament, one finds the utopian vision of a just, peaceful and reconciled world, summarized in the biblical term "shalom." Through the study of biblical texts and contemporary writings, we will explore the Judeo-Christian tradition's vision of justice, peace and reconciliation. Through the analysis of case studies we will explore how individuals, organizations and communities in the tradition are working to bring about shalom in various parts of the world through such means as nonviolent action, the defense of human rights, methods to conflict resolution and transformation, and efforts for peacebuilding and reconciliation.

PCST 399: What do we mean by Development?

Jeff Anderson

The course uses a mixture of novels and social science texts to gain insight into the nature of development. By viewing development from diverse perspectives we become conscious of the fractured and limited lens through which we view the world. Authors and texts we will read include: Joseph Conrad, Heart of Darkness; Chinua Achebe, Things Fall Apart and Anthills of the Savannah; Paulo Freire, Pedagogy of the Oppressed; Aldous Huxley, Brave New World; and E.F. Schumacher, Small is Beautiful.

POLS

POLS 114: Public Policy Analysis & Recommendation

James Read

In this course students will diagnose a public policy problem and recommend a specific course of action to address that problem. Policy fields from which problems are drawn might include foreign policy, environmental policy, health care policy, education policy, or any other field of interest to the student. There are no regular classroom meetings. Students will work in groups to meet with instructor on as-needed basis. Each student will write a focused 3-page policy memo. Students will also publicly present their recommendations in poster form at the end of the course.

PSYCHOLOGY

PSYC 393: Senior Psychology Seminar

Linda Tennison

This course will explore the interface between Western and Buddhist psychologies by a re-examination of traditional substantive areas in psychology including (but not limited to): historical development, research methodology and ways of knowing, neuroscience, sensation and perception, consciousness, conditioning, cognition, motivation and emotion, personality, social interaction and psychopathology. Class meetings will be spent discussing assigned readings from both the psychological and the Buddhist literature. Students will select a psychological topic of interest, extensively research the topic from both perspectives, and prepare a term paper to be presented to the group. In addition, students will receive basic instruction in mindfulness meditation and will be asked to adopt a daily practice, journaling their reactions and experiences, as an experiential component of the course.

THEATER

THEA 385: Topic: Actor/Creator

Adam Houghton

This class will create theater: students will work beyond only interpreting a director's vision or playwright's words (the Actor/Interpreter) toward fundamentally creating theatre (the Actor/Creator). Actor/Creators are meaning-makers and use the skills of a playwright, director, designer, technician, and actor. Class work will focus on rehearsing and performing theatre—through voice, movement, contrivance, composition and structural analysis.

PREREQUISITE: THEA 217

THEOLOGY

THEO 200: Philosophy for Theology

Dale Launderville

The method, content and status of theological reasoning have always been influenced by the wider intellectual world in which it operates. This course will examine the nature of that influence by surveying major thinkers and developments in the history of Western thought that have played a formative role in Christian theology from Plato to the 20th century.

THEO 202: Engaging Scripture

Michael Patella

The goal of the course is to deepen students' familiarity with foundational, biblical texts and with the different ways these texts have been read through the centuries. Content will ordinarily include at least one major section from each Testament (Pentateuch or Prophets and Gospels or Pauline Letters) and the intertextual nature of the texts will be highlighted (e.g. "Abraham" in Romans 4; "Passover" in Eucharistic texts and so on). Students will also learn various hermeneutical methods used through the ages (e.g. patristic, historical-critical, reader-response, feminist, canonical, etc.).

THEO 333: Suffering & Christian Healing

Juliann Heller

This course is cross-listed with CORE 333

Human suffering and Christian healing are considered in both social and personal dimensions. The ministry of the contemporary Christian church as it reclaims the ancient Christian grace of healing is explored from several perspectives: historical, literary, psychological, scientific, social and theological.

THEO 339: Spiritual Companionship

Marian Diaz

This course will introduce participants to the ministry of spiritual companionship. They will explore the growing need for "soul friends" in contemporary life and consider the various contexts for cultivating spiritual community: one-to-one, small groups, marriage, family life, place of worship, and the workplace. Participants will apply companionship skills to their own lives through course assignments and class activities such as role-plays, discussion of case studies, and reflection on personal experiences.

THEO 395: Advanced Seminar in Theology

Anthony Ruff

This course presupposes a foundational knowledge of Christian Scripture and theology, and introduces students to the content and method of a specific theological subdiscipline through intensive study of a particular topic. The specific title and description will be listed in the official class schedule.

SCHOOL OF THEOLOGY COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

MONS 437: Desert Ammas: Midwives of Wisdom

Mary Forman

Cross-listed with SPIR 468

Fourth century Christianity gave birth to a spirituality which called women out of conventional understandings of wife, courtesan and/or mother into lives of prayer, service and the founding of communal households and monasteries. Macrina, Melania, Paula, Eustochium, Marcella, Syncletica, Mary of Egypt and Egeria are but a few of the women who responded to the call to be spiritual mid-wives to others. The course will explore writings by and about these foremothers of the monastic movement, their social and historical realities and their influence then and now.

SPIR 468: Desert Ammas: Midwives of Wisdom

Mary Forman

Cross-listed with MONS 437. See description above.

STUDY ABROAD COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

General:

MGMT 389: SA Experiential Learning

Wendy Klepetar & Virginia Arthur

This course is designed for students participating in Study Abroad. Reading relevant to understanding business in the international environment will be assigned. Students will write a series of essays integrating their knowledge of theory with their personal observations and reactions. Particular emphasis will be placed on the impact of culture on business. The course will be taught by a professor at CSB/SJU using distance learning to maintain contact with students located in a variety of countries.

Spain:

SPAN 356: Seminar in Hispanic Culture and Linguistics: Spanish National Tradition, Modernity and Cultural Identity.

This course provides an interdisciplinary approach to Spanish Culture. Beginning with a historical overview of Spain and its mythic foundation we will examine the nature and sociopolitical aspects of Spanish culture. The course will introduce variations in the Spanish culture emphasizing the study of both traditional and modern cultures. This course deals with issues of cultural representation, identity negotiation and migrations. The course will study cultural global flows, and how these flows comprised many times of migrant populations have impacted the local cultural spaces where they have relocated.

We will also focus on the ways individuals, families, and communities express themselves, their beliefs, and their values within their own culture. Attention will be given to political and cultural factors underlying ethnic and nationalist sentiments within the framework of the European Union. The course explores the roots of Spain's national identity in its three original cultures, Jewish, Muslims, and Christians as well as the European intellectual and cultural background. The course also examines the contribution of tradition and change in the Spanish experience.

VERIFICATION OF MAJOR & MINOR STUDY FIELDS

It is important for planning that CSB and SJU have accurate, up-to-date information about their undergraduates' major and minor field of study; these choices change from term to term.

IF YOU NEED TO UPDATE YOUR MAJOR OR MINOR, PLEASE CONTACT THE REGISTRAR'S OFFICE.

CORE CURRICULUM REQUIREMENTS

The purpose of the Core Curriculum is to provide students with a foundation and the intellectual tools necessary to examine the fundamental, recurring questions about ourselves and our world. These questions challenge students to broaden their interests and explore a variety of academic areas. Striving to ask those questions well and make good moral and ethical judgments about them is at the heart of our colleges' mission.

The Core Curriculum is composed of four levels of requirements:

1. Proficiency-based requirements

Foreign language proficiency

Students demonstrate proficiency in speaking or reading a classical or modern language through satisfactory completion of the language proficiency exam or through satisfactory completion of Modern/Classical Language 211 (with any passing grade).

Mathematics Proficiency

Students demonstrate proficiency in elementary algebra and geometry through satisfactory completion of the mathematics proficiency exam or calculus readiness exam.

First Year Students beginning Fall 2001 must complete the Fine Arts Experience requirement by attending 8 designated Fine Arts Experience Events—four events per semester.

2. Cross-Disciplinary courses

First-Year Symposium (2 courses)-- CORE 100 & 101, or HONR 100 & 101

Senior Seminar--CORE 390, or HONR 390 only. Education majors can complete EDUC 390 and SWRK majors can complete SWRK 390. Ordinarily completed during Senior year. Cannot be repeated for credit. Both semesters of First-Year Symposium must already be completed.

3. Disciplinary courses

Only courses which are designated within the course title by the appropriate symbol (FA, HML, MT, JC, etc) may be used to complete the following disciplinary requirements.

FA	(4 credits)	Must be from courses that are designated as fulfilling Fine Arts
HML	(2 courses)	Must be from different departments or disciplines (ex. Not two literature courses even if they are from different department)
TH	(1 course)	Must be 100 level theology course.
HMU	(1 course)	Must be from the same discipline as one HML or TH already completed. Cross listed courses only fulfill either the HMU or the JC, but not both disciplinary requirements.
JC	(1 course)	May be satisfied only after the TH and one HML course is completed. Cross listed courses only fulfill either the HMU or the JC, but not both disciplinary requirements.
MT	(1 course)	Must have satisfied the Math Proficiency before the completion of the course.
NS	(2 courses)	Must be from different departments (unless NATS, COLG, HONR or ENVR).

SPAN 212-01A: Texts and Contexts in the Hispanic World

Faculty Moderator - Gladys White and José Antonio Fábres Note: Course will be taught by qualified Spanish professor on site

Dates: May 18 through June 23

An introduction to textual analysis in the context of the cultural histories and social issues of the Spanish-speaking world. The student will study a variety of texts, including a range of literary genres and film, with a unifying theme to be determined by the instructor. The course also reviews language structures to enhance reading, writing, and speaking skills, serving as a bridge between 111-211 and the more advanced courses in language, literature and culture. The student will learn about internship opportunities and study abroad in Central America and Spain. This course fulfills a core HML requirement.

PREREQUISITE: SPAN 211 or equivalent

SPAN 212-02A: Texts and Contexts in the Hispanic World

SPAN 310-01A: Advanced Grammar, 4 credits

Faculty Moderator - Gladys White and José Antonio Fábres Note: Course will be taught by qualified Spanish professor on site

Dates: May 18 through June 23

SPANISH 310 is a review and advanced study of Spanish grammar designed for students who already have taken 212. While the emphasis of the course is on practical usage, theoretical concepts will also be considered when necessary. The course will also concentrate on selected contrastive aspects of the structures of English and Spanish and the study of problematic vocabulary items as they relate to the grammatical component. Students who successfully complete this course may receive a global flag.

SPAN 312-01A: Spanish Composition, 4 credits

Faculty Moderator - Gladys White and José Antonio Fábres Note: Course will be taught by qualified Spanish professor on site

Dates: May 18 through June 23

This course is designed to help students improve their command of written Spanish. It also includes practice in oral expression, oral presentations, and daily debate. Written assignments will be based on a step-by-step approach to the development of writing skills. Writing topics will be related to short literary and cultural readings. These readings will be incorporated thematically and according to the writing styles presented in class. The course will also provide a systematic review of Spanish grammatical structures and troublesome lexical items. The grammar will be integrated with the material studied in class. Students who successfully complete this course may receive a global flag.

SPAN 355-01A: Modernism and Generation of 1898, 4 credits

Faculty Moderator - Gladys White and José Antonio Fábres Note: Course will be taught by qualified Spanish professor on site

Dates: May 18 through June 23

Modernism commences in Central America with the publication of Rubén Darío's Azul in 1888. Sensuous imagery, metaphor and innovative meter and rhyme characterize Modernism. The Generation of 98 generally refers to a group of turn-of-the-century writers preoccupied with Spain's social and economic position upon entering the 20th century. Reading and discussion of representative authors of these periods.
